A Wonderful Kentuckian

At Moorefield an interview was had with John Robinson, a clever farmer, whose wife is a cousin to a remarkable character whose name is Reuben Fields.

"Professor Fields, the Seventh Wonder," he calls himself—and truly he is a wonder, a show, a study, a "What is it?"

"Professor Fields was born near Wyoming, Bath County, twenty-eight years ago, and never weut to school but one day in his life, and on that ay carried with him an old tea-kettle filled with snakes caught with his own hands, and when the teacher attempted to drag him in the school-room, threw the snakes at him one by one from the kettle until he broke up the school for that day, and never returned again. He heartily condemned the idea of schools and school children all his day up to the present, and now rebukes all school children for going to school to lose what little knowledge they inherited by nature." Fields glories in the possession of a natural gift —that of being a mathematician whose equal is unparalleled. In fact, he is the wonder of the little portion of the world and the few rural scientist with whom he has come in contact. It is positively asserted by those who have known him from childhood that he dosen't know a figure or even the numbers on a clock dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and dial. figure or even the numbers on a clock dial, or even a letter of the alphabet, and yet he can instantly had correctly compute any mathematical problem read aloud to him, even giving the answer to the lowest docimal fraction. He has the lowest decimal fraction. He has been tried on as much as two pages of invoice on foolscap, of mercantile goods of every description, and on the last line of goods and figures being read instantly gave the right answer, and even commenced at the last line and in reverse rotation repeated every word, article and figure of the entire invoice to a dot. He never works at any other trade than that of running up invoices and making never works at any other trade than that of running up invoices and making other mathematical calculations.

The "Professor," bezides being possessed of an unseen and unaccountable world of figures in his mind and the key to all mathematical problems, the solving of which requires but an instantaneous flash through the mind, accompanied by a quick closing of the eyes and twitching of the muscles of the face as in great agony momentarily, also as in great agony momentarily, also carries in his mind a perpetual and never-varying clock dial and can give the correct "sun" time to a second, and never-varying clock dial and can give the correct "sun" time to a second, and can also tell the time to a second by a watch in another pocket, never looking at a watch or clock. He frequently teils persons the difference between their time and that of the sun. He has frequently been asked the time by clocks and watches out of sight, and has never missed giving a correct answer. The "Professor" has so nonplussed conductors by telling them the exact time by the watches in their pockets, and in his peculiar manner of interesting them in his unique history, that he has frequently made almost the entire trip from Kentucky to Kansas, where his mother now resides, free of charge, the conductors becoming so interested in him that they would almost invariably forget to collect his fare. Fields claims that he is a scaled Seventh Wonder, in the possession of a gift which could be easily taken away from him, and through fear therefore refuses to receive medical textrent for anilogy with which he is taken away from him, and through fear therefore refuses to receive medical treatment for epilepsy, with which he is afflicted, but sometimes speaks of being willing to receive treatment from a "faith" doctor with whom he claims to be acquainted, and who lives in the mountains of Kentucky.

Fields is also possessed of another gift almost equally marvelous, viz: that of handling snakes of all kinds, including the rattle, the copperhead, garter, racer, etc., and never was known to have been bitten. He also holds power over all feroclous dogs—having gone once racer, etc., and never was known to have been bitten. He also holds power over all ferceious dogs—having gene once into the yard of James Tipton, at Moore-field, where a most ferceious bull-dog held sway unmolested. The dog reared up on him and played with him as he had never done with any member even of the home family. He has also been known to have fondled with the heels and hind legs of bad kicking horses and mulcs, and never been hurt. "Professor" Fields is a bachelor who never intends to marry, weighs 200 pounds, has red whiskers, and has a small, "grey eye of deatiny," and says he can give no explanation of his marvelous gift, save that it is a gift similar to that of Eina Tom. Fields is naturally of a sullen disposition, refuses to be interviewed, for fear others will learn of him, seldom permitting an acquaintance to be formed with any one. The stage driver, Mr. McClelland Tully, informed the Times that he succeeded in forming the acquaintance of the "Professor" by approaching him with a checker-board—he having a special gitt or charm for the game, which he delights in and sees all proaching him with a checker-board—he having a special gitt or charm for the game, which he delights in and sees all through at a glance. Mr. Robinson says he considers himself a first-clast checkerplayer, but that Fields beat himseventy-three games out of seventy-five at one sitting, and that Felds only gave him the two games just to encourage him to the twe games just to encourage him to play.

This peculiar character, who is indeed the greatest wonder of the age, refused several good offers to go into the show business, and claims that no amount of money would induce him to thus degrade himself and "lose his charmed gift." He is new sojourning at Wyoming, Bath County, frequently visits Mr. Robinson's family new Meacheld and is known by hundreds of the best citizens in Bath and Nicholas Counties.—Cincinnati Times' Kentucky Letter.

To MAKE HERS LAY,—Put two or more quarts of water in a kettle, and one large seed pepper or two small ones, then put the kettle over the fire. When the water boils stir in Indian meal until you then the water boils stir in Indian meal until you then the water boils stir in Indian meal until you put the hettle over the fire. When the water boils stir in Indian meal until you have a thick mush. Let it cook an hour or so; feed hot. Horse radish chopped fine and stirred into mush as prepared in the above directions, and for results we are getting from five to ten eggs per day, whereas previous to feeding we had no eggs for along time. We hear a good deal of complaint from other people about getting aggs. To such we would warmly recommend cooked feed, fed hot. Holled apple skins, seasoned with red pepper, or boiled potatoes cessoned with none radish are good for feed; much better than uncooked food. Gorn when fed to bens, by itself, has a tendency to fallen, rather than produce the more profitable egg. Kying. A spoonful of salphur stirred with their food occasionally will rid them of rerain and tone up their system. It is especially good for young chickens or turkeys. Out of a fook of lan haided last Novembre we have lost but one. They have been fed cooked food morely and are growing finely.—Ohio Farmer.

ONE BENEFIT FROM POVERTY.—The misfortunes of war, culminating in the loss of servants, has devolved on the daughters in Southern families much of the hard work formerly done by the slaves, and they have become more prac-tical women than they could ever have slaves, and they have become more prac-tical women than they could ever have been if reared with a servant at their command, ready at all times to do their bidding. In all that pertains to the art of housekeeping, from the kitchen to the garret, the girls of to day are better edu-cated than their mothers were. They have learned to work for themselves, and for the families of which they are mem-bers. Cultivated in mind, muscles and bers. Cultivated in mind, muscles and morals, beautiful in form and feature, modest in speech and apparel, the South-ern girls are the peers of any the world for several months. He tends to total abatinence, and it agrees with him splendidly."

- Mr. Jefferson Davis wrote a letter regretting his inability to attend the recent re-union, at Salisbury, N. C., of the survivors of the late war from that State, in which he says: "Prominent among your objects is to allay ill-feeling which may remain between those who followed different flags, so as to unite all in proper efforts for the general welfare of your State. Nohing surely could be more commendable than the object, and nothing is less Christian fo more unsoldierly than malice and a cherished desire for revenge."

mailce and a cherished desire for revenge."

— A dispatch to a prominent prohibitionist from San Francisco contains the following news of interest to the Blue Ribbon people and the Republican temperance societies formed under the patronage of Mrs. R. B. Hayes: "An erroneous impression may have been created by mentioning that champagne and cigars were handed round at the California Theatre. Although as great a smoker as before, Gen. Grant has not drank wine for several months. He tends to total abathence, and it agrees with him splendidly."

— The Detroit Free Press ridicules the moral assumptions of the Republican party thus: "The profligate Senator of one great State (Conkling) carries the party vote of that State in his pocket; another Senator (Chandier,) whose drunken habits are the daily subject of jeering comment all over the land, is the chosen and accepted standard-bearer of his party in his State and the choice of himself for higher honers. And still another, whose record as a stock jobber (Blaine) would have covered an humbler man in infamy, is a prominent candidate for a Presidential nomination."

Kingston, Ga., Beranson.

Kingston, Ga., Beranson is sufferer from Scrofuls in its most distressing forms. I have been confined to my room and bed for fifteen years with scrofulus ulcerations. The most approved remedies for such cases had been used, and the most eminent physicians consulted, without any decided benefit. Thus prostrated, distressed, desponding, I was advised by Dr. Ayer, of Floyd County, Gs., to commence the use of your Compound Extract Stillingia. Lenguage is as insufficient to describe the relief I obtained from the use of the Stillingia as it is to convey an adequate idea of the intensity of my suffering before using your medicine; sufficient to asy, I abandoned all other remedies and continued the use of your Extract of Stillingia, until I can say truly, "I am cured of all pain," of all disease, with nothing to obstruct the active pursuit of my profession. More than eight months have elapsed since this remarkable cure, without any return of the disease. For the truth of the above statement, I refer to any gentleman in Bartow County, Ga., and to the members of the bar of Cherokee Circuit, who are acqualited with me. I shall ever remain, with the deepest gratitude, your obselents.

A MIRACLE.

WEST POINT, G.A., Sept. 16, 1870.

GENTS—My daughter was taken on the 28th day of June, 1865, with what was supposed to be Acute Rheumatism, and was treated for the same with no success. In March, following, pieces of bone began to work out of the right arm, and continued to appear till all the bone from the elbow to the shoulder joint came out. Many pieces of bone came out of the right foot and leg. The case was then pronounced one of White Swelling. After having been confined about six years to her bed, and the case considered hopeless, I was induced to try Dr. Pemberton's Compound Extract & Stillingia, and was so well satisfied with its effects that I have continued the use of it until the present.

My daughter was confined to her bed about six years before she sat up or even turned over without help. She now sits up all day, and sews most of her time—has walked across the room, Her general health is now good, and I believe she will, as her Ilmbe gain strength, walk well. I attribute her recovery, with the blessing of God, to the use of your invaluable medicine.

With gratitude, I am yours truly, he still remains—it speaks out for the right. That is The Sun's idea of Independence. In this respect there will be no change in its programme for 1879.

The Sun has fairly carned the hearty hatred of rascals, frauda, and humbury of all sorts and sizes. It hopes to deserve that hatred not less in the year rascals, frauda, and humbury of all sorts and sizes. It hopes to deserve that hatred not less in the year 1879, than in 1878, 1877, or any year gone by. The Sun will continue to skine on the whecked with unmilipated brightness.

While the lesson of the past should be constantly kept before the people, The Sun does not propose to make itself in 1879 a magnaine of ancient history. It is —'unted for the men and women of to-day, whose concern is chiefly with the affairs of the after 1879 a magnaine of ancient history. It is —'unted for the men and women of to-day, after the seaders the promptest, fullest, and most accurate intelligence of whatever in the wide world is worth attention. To this end the resources belonging to well-catabilished prosperity will be liberally employed.

The present disjointed condition of partles in this country, and the uncertainty of the future lead an extraordinary significance to the events of the coming year. The discussions 'the press, the debates and acts of Congress, and the movements of the leaders in every section of the Republic will have a direct bearing on the Presidential election of 1830—an event which must be regarded with the most anxious interest by every patriotic American, whatever his political ideas or allegiance. To these elements of interest may be added the probability that the Demotrate will control both houses of Congress, the increasing feetleness of the fraudulent Administration, and the apread and strengthulent administration, and the press the exact situation in each of its well-known methods, the principles that land.

It is further Ordered, That the costs of the Barksdale heirs incurred up to this time in litigating their claim be taxed by the Clerk against the Plaintiff as Administrator aforesaid, and that subsequent costs be paid out of the corpus of the estate decreed to the claimants.

It is further Ordered, That it be referred to W. W. Humphreys, Master for Anderson County, to take testimony and report as to the propriety of the partition asked for and as to what amount would be a reasonable and proper Counsel fee for Featherston & Brown and E. B. Murray for their services in said litigation. Brown and E. B. Murray for their services in said litication.

It is further Ordered, That the representatives and distributess of the deceased children of Mrs. Martha A. Barkedale, deceased, be made parties to the proceedings in partition herein by service of a copy of this order upon them, and that those who are over twenty-one years of age be required to file their answers within twenty days after the service hereof, or be concluded in their rights in the premises, and that the minors be required to be represented by Guardians ad Litem.

It is further Ordered, That the heirs of Mrs. Martha A. Barksdale, deceased, be allowed to apply for such further orders in the premises as they may be advised.

B. C. PRESSLEY,

THE SUN FOR 1879.

Clinkscales, Irene J. Osborne, et al., Defendants.

THE heirs of Mrs. Martha A. Barksdale, deceased, having been made parties in the above entitled cause for the purpose of testing their right to a certain tract of land therein set forth, and they by their Guardian ad Litem having answered the Complaint setting up their title thereto and asking for a partition thereof among those entitled to the distribution thereof, and his Honor Judge T. J. Mackey, before whom the cause was tried, having decided the controversy in reference to the said tract of land in favor of the said heirs of Mrs. Martha A. Barksdale, deceased, and having authorized by a provision of the said Decree that parties to the said cause may move for such further orders as may be necessary to carry out the effect on such Decree; and the time for appealing from said Decree having elapsed and no notice of appeal having been given upon this branch of the said cause; and since the argument of the said cause; and since the Barksdale daving died after marriage, leaving respectively a wife and a husband surviving with a child each, on motion of Featherston & Brown and E. B. Murray, attorreys for the Barksdale claimants; it is ORDERED AND DECREED, That so much of the above entitled action as relates to the Barksdale tract of land be, and hereby is, disassociated from the remainder of the said action and ordered to stand as a separate case for the purpose of carrying out the partition asked for by the parties decreed to be entitled to the said land.

It is further Ordered, That the costs of the THE SUN FOR 1879.

The Sun will be printed every day during the year to come. Its purposes and aethod will be the same as in the past. To present all the news in a a relable shape, and to tell the truth though the acavens fall.

The Sur has been, and will continue to be independent of everybody and everything save the Truth and its own convictions of duty. That is the only policy which has won for this acwaper, per the confidence and friendship of a wider constituency than was ever "Joyed by any other American Journal.

The Sur is tan newspaper for the people. It is not for the rice man against the poor man, or for the poor man against the rice man into the selection of a period, class would be equal custice to all the interests in the community. It is not the organ of aary period, class wood or party. There need be no mystery about its loves and bates. It is for the honest man against the rogues every time. It is for the honest Democrat. It does not take its cue from the utterances of any politician or political organization. It gives also approximate the constitution and with the principles upon which this Republic was founded for the people. Whenever the Constitution and constitutional principles are violated—as in the outrageous conspiracy of 1876, by which a man not elected was placed in the President's office, where he still remains—it speaks out for the right. That is The Sur's idea of Independence. In this respect there will be no change in its programme for 1879.
